HEDGEWOOD SCHOOL

This Week

Happy Friday everyone! The children have embraced their learning with enthusiasm, and the brighter weather has lifted spirits across the school. Our classrooms have been filled with creativity, curiosity, and wonderful moments of pupils supporting one another.

We were also pleased to welcome several visiting professionals who observed our practice. As always, our pupils demonstrated their incredible strengths, and the feedback highlighted their achievements and the warm, nurturing environment that makes Hedgewood so special.

CAAS

The Centre for ADHD and Autism Support (CAAS) is a valuable resource for parents seeking support. They offer a range of services, including drop-in sessions, one-to-one support, and workshops covering topics like understanding autism and ADHD. These services help parents manage challenges and develop effective strategies for supporting their children. For more information, including how to access these services, please visit the CAAS website at adhdandautism.org.

Coffee Morning

We had a lovely Coffee Morning this Wednesday at 9am. It was wonderful to see so many parents join us to chat, mingle, and enjoy warm conversations together. These sessions create such a welcoming and supportive environment, giving families a chance to meet one another and build connections within our school community.

Our next Coffee Morning will be held on April 22nd at 9am, and we hope to see even more of you there!

Eid Mubarak

Wishing a happy Eid to all the families who are celebrating.

Hayfever

With the rising pollen count, we expect to see more children experiencing hay fever symptoms, including sneezing, itchy eyes, and congestion. To help your child stay comfortable in school, please ensure they take any necessary antihistamines before arriving. Please note that over-the-counter antihistamines are not classified as emergency medication, so school staff will not be administering them. If your child requires over-the-counter antihistamines, they must be given at home. Prescribed medications will be administered as per Individual Healthcare Plans. Thank you for your cooperation.

PLEASE NOTE THAT THIS CLUB IS NOT RUN BY HEDGEWOOD SCHOOL

Dear parents / carers

One of our Hedgewood parents has kindly shared the following Easter Holiday Club flyer with me.

This organisation has expanded their services and are currently running after-school sessions and Saturday sessions. Their new premises in Hanwell is also a new clinic in the area which will also include dedicated rooms for speech and language therapy, occupational therapy, and behavioural therapy support as well assessment, along with sensory rooms for children to use. They will be doing a soft launch in April so families can go and see their services and also join their Easter club sessions.
